Space Hippie

There Is No Resupply Mission on Mars (or Earth)

Space Hippie is an exploratory footwear collection inspired by life on Mars—where materials are scarce and there is no resupply mission. Created from scraps, or “space junk,” Space Hippie is the result of sustainable practices meeting radical design.

Made with Space Waste Yarn

One athlete’s trash is another’s treasure. Space Hippie’s Flyknit yarn is made from 85-90% recycled content, including plastic bottles, t-shirts and post-industrial scraps.

Made with Space Waste Yarn

One athlete's trash is another's treasure. Space Hippy's Flyknit yarn is made from 85-90% recycled content, including plastic bottles, t-shirts and post-industrial scraps.

Crater Foam tooling uses about 12% Nike Grind rubber combined with foam materials for a more sustainable, lightweight and responsive feel during city exploration.

We're working to ditch the double box, and ship Space Hippy shoes in a single shoebox made with at least 90% recycled content.

A Radically Different Future

Protecting the future of sport starts with reimagining the ways in which we create the products we love the most. Space Hippy is Nike's latest step toward a better future, but we must work as a team to move the world toward climate action.

Nike's journey toward zero carbon and zero waste to help protect the future of sport.
