What makes Dice Match different?

While many job sites only use keyword matching to create your job match, Dice Match leverages our patented Knowledge Graph to map skills together and incorporate expertise from tech recruiters — delivering more accurate matches and creating connections to jobs you may not have made yourself.

Additionally, our match scores are free. Whereas many other sites have match details hidden behind a paywall or embedded in emails, Dice Match saves you time by showing you your match score immediately within the job search page at no cost.

Lastly, Dice Match is not a lump score like other sites. We provide a breakdown of your score into different categories such as job relevance, skills and titles. This gives you more specific and actionable feedback that you can then use to either go back and update your profile or determine where you need to grow your skills.
